FIRE MUST MEET
WRECKED SHIP

French Aeronaut Declares He Will Not Attempt Another Ascension Unless Exposition Company Will Pay for Needed Repairs.

COULDN'T SAY "LEGOO!" RESULT WAS DISASTROUS.

First Capsizing by Collision With Fence, Monster Craft Is Finally Disabled by Long Rent in Gas Bag at Door.

M. Hippolyte Francois will not attempt another ascension with his big airship, which was wrecked on the fence and the aerodrome door while cruising around at anchor late Tuesday afternoon, unless the World's Fair company will pay for the repairs and a new supply of gas.

In other words, it will cost the Exposition company $700 to persuade Francois to try again.

He waited Wednesday morning to see Percy Hudson, superintendent of aeronautics, and lay this ultimatum before him.

Mr. Hudson did not appear at his office. Francois says he cannot repair his ship in less than ten days. The frame work was badly wrecked in the collision with the fence, and the rent made in the gas bag by a nail on the aerodrome door is of distressing proportions.

In addition to his troubles with his ship, M. Francois is having trouble with his crew. In fact, as ships are wont to have, the big airship has a rebellious crew.

Adrian Moucheraud, the Frenchman of the party which came over from France with the ship, has purchased a ticket from St. Louis to Paris, and announced Wednesday morning that he will leave for home next Monday.

M. Moucheraud says he is going back in this abrupt fashion because he does not like America, but it is understood about the aerial ascension that he is hurrying away because he was not permitted to go up with the airship Tuesday.

It is known that M. Moucheraud does not think much of the practicability of the Francois ship. He has been heard to say that it is made of cotton, when it should be made of silk, and that, while "it may be to cover Belgian hares, it will hardly serve for going up into the air."

M. Francois says that if his offer is refused by the Exposition company he will pack his ship at once and go home, and that next spring he will return to St. Louis and fly over the city just to show the American people that he can fly if he wants to.

By the cold, gray light of the day after Francois' airship lay Wednesday in a trench in the World's Fair aerodrome looking like a wreck. The gas was all out of it and the bag lay limp when it was pulled up, with the nearly three feet long in the top. The bow of the ship was bent, twisted and broken, and the port and starboard bow propellers were shattered and torn.

M. Francois' ignorance of that popular American word, "leggo," as used by A. Roy Knabenshue when he yells for the airship of his ship, is responsible for the accident to his big airship Tuesday, as was told in late editions of the Post-Dispatch, and the loss of a bag full of gas. It will be some days before the inventor is ready to make another attempt at flight.

Everything seemed propitious for a successful flight when the monster ship was hoisted from the balloon-chute into sight of the crowd of thousands in the aeronautic concourse at the World's Fair at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Henri Schneider, engineer, and M. Francois stepped into the car. The captive ropes were still hanging to the bag, but these were to be released as soon as M. Francois should give the word and the ship was to be hoisted by the ropes.

Here was the crucial moment. M. Francois saw the fence, looked at his propellers, hastily conversed with his engineer and decided on a free flight, risk or no risk. He leaned over the side of the car and yelled in French to loose the ropes, but there was the rub.

Twenty Americans were holding the ropes, not one of whom knew the French language, thought he meant "hold hard," and they held. Before an interpreter could explain the framework of the big airship crashed into the fence and was hopelessly smashed.

The machine was hoisted down amid many expressions of regret, and towed back toward the aerodrome. Misfortune No. 2. As the workmen were plotting the route of the big doorway, a protruding nail ripped the bag near the top and the gas escaped.

DYING BOY DID HIS ERRAND

Fatally Wounded Through His Own Carelessness He Completes a Task His Mother Set Him.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHILLICOTHE, Mo., Nov. 16.—Walter Terrill, a farmer boy of 17 years, is a lad of great nerve and an obedient son, if his judgment was not on one occasion so faulty. His mother sent him after a spade from their house near the city to a field, five yards away. He took with him a revolver for a change shot, and while trying to force a cartridge into the gun, accidentally exploded the slide, with his pocket knife, shooting himself. Although he was fatally injured, he walked a distance of 100 yards after the spade and carried it to the house. He was taken to the hospital, but he died before the physician could get to him.

MURDER CHARGE

Florodora Actress Is Pathetic Figure as She Faces the Jury Which Is to Decide Whether She Killed Cesar Young.

SHE IS CONFIDENT HER TESTIMONY WILL PREVAIL

Verdict Means Life or Death to This Girl, Who Has Seen Life Contrasts and Maintains She Will Tell "Simple Truth."

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—After more than five months in the Tombs prison awaiting trial on a charge of murder, Nan Patterson, the alleged slayer of Cesar Young, faced a jury in the criminal branch of the Supreme court today.

Delay, first from one cause and then from another, has been a prominent feature in the case ever since Miss Patterson was taken into custody after the tragic death of Young in a cab in which he and the young woman were driving to a pier, where Young was to take a steamer for Europe.

In anticipation of the beginning of the trial, the court was crowded with spectators when Justice Vernon M. Davis took his seat on the bench. There was only a slight delay before it was announced that everything for the opening of the trial was in readiness.

Miss Patterson, dressed in black, was brought in by prison attendants and took a seat by her counsel, Abraham Levy and Daniel O'Reilly. Her father, J. Randolph Patterson of Washington, had a seat with a jury from a special panel of 1000 men.

The examination of each witness was conducted with extreme thoroughness and one man, who apparently had passed all the requirements, was turned away by the defense when he said, in answer to a question, that he had friendly feelings toward District Attorney Jerome.

Elwood Hendricks, a broker, was the first man to answer all the questions to the satisfaction of both the prosecution and the defense.

The verdict, if guilty, means death for the prisoner. Her friends see no escape from the electric chair at Sing Sing except through a verdict of "not guilty."

No matter what decision these twelve men arrive at Nan Patterson will have passed through an ordeal such as few women in a lifetime. To wear handsome gowns, to face audiences of thousands applauding wildly while you sing:

"Tell me, pretty maiden, are there any more at home like you?"

To live in luxury, to have everything that your heart can desire, to know the life of upper Broadway after the lights are burning, and to be the toast of small-hour suppers, with champagne flowing freely—that is one side of the picture.

"Nan Patterson, you are accused of the wilful murder of Cesar Young. How say you, guilty or not guilty?"

For two or three hours yesterday and the day before the prisoner sat in conference with her lawyers, Abraham Levy, Henry W. Unger and Daniel O'Reilly, one of the dining rooms of the Tombs, going over for the last time and perfecting the details of the story she wishes the jury to believe, and which she thinks they will believe, and which she and her counsel say will acquit her of the charge of murder.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Levy a Post-Dispatch reporter was permitted to be present during a short period of the late conference. Mr. Levy had said and written of the wonderful beauty and attractiveness of this young girl, and pages of the Sunday newspapers have been devoted to telling how, suddenly shorn of the luxury of her former life, she has pined and faded like a hothouse flower suddenly abandoned to the chilling blasts of a back yard.

Not Pathetic.

There is nothing beautiful about this actress. It would take a whole lot of cosmetics and make-up, a whole lot of powder and paint and a whole lot of quick, with stage effects to make her appear beautiful. In her simple black gown, relieved only by a narrow white ruching at the neck, and sitting in a corner of the bare dining room of the Tombs, she presented only a pathetic little figure wearily out of place in these surroundings.

It may be that Nan Patterson shot and killed Cesar Young, but no one seeing this little, plain, doll-faced girl yesterday could believe it. There is apparently not a vicious line in her face. It is more that of a rather weak, pleasure-loving girl, flushed with excitement, from the stage, and with the color that wine and the glamour of electric lights and the surroundings of a midnight supper party lends, she might be considered good-looking and attractive. With the Tombs and its bareness as a background, she is not.

Her face is plump, and has only a suggestion of paleness, which scarcely amounts to pallor. When the Post-Dispatch reporter was introduced to her, she looked up quickly, with a pleasant smile, that put some animation into her face. Mr. Levy said that she was in the Tombs for the coming trial, so that only mere comings and goings were possible.

"I saw hope that by this time next week I shall be free," she said, in a well modulated, quick voice. It does not take long for a person confined in a prison to become a person of the prison.

RUSSIANS BLOW UP RASTOROPNY TO FOIL JAPS

Torpedo Boat Destroyer Escapes From Port Arthur in Snowstorm, Runs Into Chefoo With Dispatches and Is Destroyed.

FEARED JAPANESE WOULD GET HER

Passage Through the Guarding Fleet of the Beleaguered Port Was Made With Ease by the Speedy Little Craft.

CHEFOO, Nov. 16.—The Russian torpedo boat destroyer, Rastoropny, which ran the Japanese blockade in a snowstorm from Port Arthur last night and arrived here early this morning, has been blown up to prevent the Japanese from cutting her out, as they did the Ryshitel.

The Russian, with the exception of one man, left the destroyer during the afternoon. This last man lit fuses and blew up the vessel.

There were three dull explosions which were scarcely discernible a hundred yards from the place where they occurred. Almost simultaneously the Rastoropny sank and settled on the bottom. A battle ship marks her grave.

Prior to the destruction of the destroyer the tactical had officially notified the Japanese consul that her disarmament had been completed, the breechblock and ammunition having been removed and the machinery disabled.

During the afternoon the Russian consul officially notified the tactical that the destroyer had been driven toward Chefoo by a heavy sea and that it had been decided to disarm her because her machinery had been disabled. This is looked on in some quarters here as the throwing of a transparent veil over the purpose of the vessel's visit.

Small charges of ordinary powder, placed in each of the five watertight compartments, were exploded.

Customs Officer Koenig was on board the destroyer and the Russian, experienced considerable difficulty in getting him out without arousing his suspicions. The destroyer's cutter, manned by two men, was lying near, and the official was persuaded to take a ride around the Rastoropny in order that he might see the injuries he was alleged to have received. No sooner had the customs officer stepped into the cutter than a petty officer drew his watch and urged the rowers to make all speed away.

When the destroyer had gone down the official was taken on shore.

The Japanese consul says the Russians wanted their vessel, as the Ryshitel incident would not have been repeated.

The commander of the Rastoropny, Capt. Pelem, in an interview on his adventurous voyage, said:

"I left Port Arthur at midnight in a blinding snowstorm. The boat was navigated through all the dangers of floating mines without a mishap. As we were approaching we saw a Japanese cruiser and some torpedo boats in the distance, but we were steaming rapidly through the storm with light extinguished and passed them unnoticed. We reached Chefoo without mishap of any kind."

Commander Pelem added that the destroyer's object was simply to carry dispatches. The other Russian ships remained at Port Arthur.

The Rastoropny, being one of the fastest of the Russian vessels, soon outdistanced her pursuers and entered Chefoo with a muffled boom playing a sprightly air and the savory odor of a breakfast steak apparently testifying to the fact that Port Arthur still enjoys fresh meat.

The destroyer sped in like an arrow at 6:50 a. m., and anchored a few hundred yards abate the United States cruiser New Orleans, flagship of Rear-Admiral Folger, commander of the cruiser squadron of the Asiatic fleet. The Chinese cruiser Hsiao Yung raised steam within twenty minutes and came close to the Rastoropny. Capt. Ching of the Hsiao Yung boarded her and held a brief conference with Commander Pelem.

Ensign Walenwright, Rear-Admiral Folger's aid, boarded the Rastoropny immediately, but he and Capt. Ching were not invited to enter the Rastoropny's cabin, although a blizzard was cutting their faces.

Capt. Ching notified Commander Pelem that 24 hours was the limit of the time he could remain armed at Chefoo, after which the Rastoropny would be compelled to disarm. While delivering this ultimatum, the Russian sailors, who seemed to be healthy and care free, continued greasing the torpedo tubes, which were loaded.

Following the conference with Capt. Ching, the Rastoropny was moved further in, to the old anchorage of the torpedo boat destroyer Ryshitel, where the Russian consul boarded the Rastoropny and brought her dispatches ashore.

The Russian officers are all reticent, but they say the condition of Port Arthur is as good as it was two months ago. They also deny the report that the Russian armored cruiser Bayan has been sunk, though they admit that a shell damaged four engines, which are being repaired.

Russian cruisers come out of Port Arthur daily, the battleships remaining in the harbor. The overdrawn optimism of the officers, it was asserted, made it obvious that their story was rehearsed before it was given to the public.

The commander of the torpedo boat destroyer was optimistic with reference to Port Arthur. He declared that all the forts remained in good condition and that the garrison was confident and in good spirits. The former Russian governor of Port Arthur, M. Sakharoff, died recently at Port Arthur of enteric fever.

WOMAN FROM ROOF

Climbing From Window, She Was About to Jump When Checked by Cries.

Mrs. Sadie Williams, who expected to start Wednesday for Milton, Fla., after having kept a rooming house for World's Fair visitors during the summer and autumn, has deferred her departure, pending the adjustment of the loss she sustained by the fire at 2637 and 2639 Olive street early Wednesday morning.

The fire drew a large crowd and caused excitement among the World's Fair hotels and boarding houses in the vicinity, and it had a dramatic incident in the rescue of Mrs. Williams from a position of peril.

Customs officer Koenig, French commissioner-general and Georges Gerard, French commissioner-general to appear before him Thursday morning and show cause why they intended withdrawing the award made to the plaintiff, if, as alleged in the petition, this is a such wherefore plaintiff asks for a restraining order.

The fire started in the rear room on the second floor. It burned through the roof of this room, which projects farther to the rear than the third floor, and communicated to the third floor and spread to the front of the house and downward. The third floor was burned out, and the entire rear of the house was damaged.

At about 11 o'clock the fire was over $1000. Mrs. Williams said Wednesday she would not attempt to estimate her loss, but stated that it was covered by insurance.

Martin (peering into the darkness and taking a fresh grip on his big gun): "Here comes a guy, and alone! Low bridge, Willie, an' get a grip on de iron bar you got in yer hands!"

Riley (splitting on his hands and gripping the iron bar with which he intends to land on the approaching victim): "Do we shoot him or slug him?"

Thomas Burns, 26, members of the World's Fair hospital corps, approaches to arouse the many persons he supposed to be sleeping in the house he sustained a severe injury.

At last, after waiting to turn in an alarm he threw open the front door, which was not locked, and rushed up to the landing at the second story. He encountered so much heat and smoke there that he was obliged to turn back. In doing so his foot caught and he fell down the stairs, breaking his shoulder.

The fire started in the rear room on the second floor. It burned through the roof of this room, which projects farther to the rear than the third floor, and communicated to the third floor and spread to the front of the house and downward. ACT II.
Scene—The same. Time—An hour later. Dramatis personae—The highwayman and Special Officers Crismon and Duffy, the two latter approaching at a distance to see if the bandits are still working at the same old stand.

Martin: "Hi! A pair of guys comin'! They're comin' dis way, too, 'an' they got money. That empty was goin' away from 'is Fair, when nobody has any money."

Riley (gripping the bar again): "They walk like a pair of coppers."

Martin: "Plisht! Dye thing two coppers wud come out in this dark place dis time o' night by themselves?"

The two men approach nearer and nearer, and the highwayman freeze to the ground, weapons in hand. Now the victims are abreast of them.

"Halt and hands up!" cried Martin, springing up, gun in hand, with Riley, bar in hand, at his side.

"Certainly," said the two officers, lifting their hands up and pointing two pairs of big pistols against the noses of Martin and Riley.

"Hands up!" said the officers.

"Coppers!" exclaimed Martin, dropping his bar.

"Tricked!" sighed Riley, dropping his bar.

Police marched the men ahead of them and locked them up. Warrants charging highway robbery were issued against Martin Riley Wednesday.

MERCHANT DIES SUDDENLY

James G. Gilmore Expires of Heart Failure in His Westminster Place Home.

James G. Gilmore, senior member of the wholesale clothing firm of Gilmore & Ruhl at 613 North Eighth street, died suddenly of heart failure Wednesday morning at his home, 3712 Westminster place.

The death was reported to the coroner. Mr. Gilmore had been complaining of ill health for some time, but had been confined to his home only since Saturday. He expected to go to his office Tuesday, but was unable to do so. He sent word to his partner, Mr. Ruhl, that he would be down Wednesday morning. Instead of seeing him at that time, Mr. Ruhl received word of his death.

Mr. Gilmore was 55 years old and had been in business in St. Louis for ten years. He and his partner having come here from Omaha at that time.

Besides his wife, he leaves three daughters and two sons, ranging in age from 16 to 24 years.

Mr. Gilmore arose at 6 o'clock, expecting to go to his office, but complained of not feeling well.

He was urged to go back to bed, and did so. Half an hour later members of the family found him dead.

Engine and Cars Derailed.

Manhole Covers Blown High in Air at Hickory and Rutger Streets and Park Avenue Corners, Causing Panic.

MEN AND WOMEN DRIVEN FROM STORES IN PANIC

Heavy Iron, Soaring Over Telephone Wire, Falls on Delivery Wagon, Shattering it and Causing Many Runaways.

At 2:10 o'clock Wednesday afternoon three terrific explosions shook the neighborhood of Broadway and Hickory street, terrifying the men and women, shaking stores and dwellings and causing many runaways.

The explosions were caused by sewers full of gas blowing off the heavy iron manhole covers along Broadway at the corners of Hickory and Rutger streets and Park avenue.

The explosions were as loud as the reports from 16-inch guns, and stunned for the moment every person in the neighborhood.

Manhole covers were sent high into the air, and in two instances fell upon wagons by the side of the street, utterly demolishing them.

At the first explosion, at Broadway and Hickory, the houses in the neighborhood rocked from the concussion, and men and women rushed from them and the stores.

In an instant two other explosions took place and the people, frantic with fear, fled back into their houses again.

At Hickory street and Broadway the manhole cover soared higher than the telephone wires, and descending, fell upon a delivery wagon by the roadside. The wagon was smashed to pieces, and the horse fell, badly injured.

The manhole cover at Rutger street and Broadway fell upon a light delivery wagon and smashed it, and the horse attached to a grocery delivery wagon belonging to Philip Burg ran away, smashing the vehicle.

Men in the neighborhood of the explosions were thrown against the buildings or to the sidewalks by the concussion and injured, and several children were thrown to the sidewalk.

The city sewer department give as a possible solution for the explosions the leakage of illuminating gas into the sewers, which was accidentally fired through one of the manholes.

The largest of the sewers in which the explosions occurred runs east on Rutger street from Broadway and is four feet by five feet in dimensions. The sewer on Broadway at Park avenue and Hickory street is 2 1/2 by 3 1/2 feet.

EXHIBITOR SUES TO RETAIN HIS AWARD

Asks for Injunction to Restrain World's Fair Jury From Reversing Decision.

The prize award storm which has been gathering over the World's Fair broke this morning, when the Standard Adding Machine Co. appealed to the Circuit Court of St. Louis for an injunction to restrain the Exposition company and the superior jury of awards from taking back a grand prize awarded to the company's exhibit in the Liberal Arts building.

The application was made before Judge McDonald, before Judge P. Spencer, attorney for plaintiff, and Judge McDonald commanded the defendants—David R. Francis, president; Wilbur F. Boyle, first vice-president; Frederick J. V. Skiff, director of exhibits; Theodore Lewald, German commissioner-general; and Georges Gerard, French commissioner-general—to appear before him Thursday morning and show cause why they intended withdrawing the award made to the plaintiff, if, as alleged in the petition, this is a such wherefore plaintiff asks for a restraining order.

It is freely predicted at the World's Fair that other suits will follow, and that the matter of prize awards will be hotly contested in the local courts.

It is believed that the reports leading to this suit are a development in the controversy between the Exposition company and the National Commission, which insists that it is the final arbiter in all prize awards and that every announcement made far made of awards is premature because the National Commission has not passed upon the work of the superior jury. The Exposition company has resisted the contention.

COL BRECKENRIDGE STRICKEN

Former Congressman and Leading Character in the Pollard Case Ill With Apoplexy.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 16.—Col. W. C. P. Breckenridge, the noted lawyer and former congressman from this district, was stricken while at his desk in his New today with apoplexy and his condition is now considered serious.

This is the second attack he has suffered during the past few weeks.

Col. Breckenridge's retirement from active political life was coincident with the trial of a suit for breach of promise of marriage brought against him by Madeline Pollard. This was one of the most famous and oft-quoted cases in its class. Subsequently Col. Breckenridge interested himself in Kentucky politics, but without marked success.

IN THIN GARB SHE ROAMED TWO DAYS

Girl Who Escaped From House of Refuge Sought in Vain for Home.

Mamie Menard, the 16-year-old girl who escaped from the hospital ward of the House of Refuge, Sunday afternoon, is back, after two days of liberty.

Clashed only in the thin hospital attire of a patient, which consisted of a blue calico dress over a thin skirt, the girl roamed the streets of St. Louis for two days looking for a home.

It was therefore not altogether displeasing to her that she returned to the institution Tuesday night after she was caught at Twelfth street and Franklin avenue, about 8 o'clock, by James Ayling, a House of Refuge guard.

Mamie was sent to the institution in August on the charge of breaking into the house of James Harris, 817 North Compton avenue. She disputed the theory that she had been seduced in her escape.

She had got dressed in her escape. Mamie has been sick ever since she went to the House of Refuge. She was considered too weak by the attendants to make her escape unaided. She returned looking little worse for her experience, although she was badly chilled and was said to have a possibility of pneumonia.

At one time Mamie was pretty. She is now 16 now, and her beauty has not entirely faded. She will be detained in the institution until she is 18.

PUTTING IT STRONG.

But Doesn't It Look Reasonable?
This may read as though we were putting it a little strong, because it is generally thought by the majority of people that Dyspepsia in its chronic form is incurable or practically so. But we have long since shown that Dyspepsia is curable, nor is it such a difficult matter as at first appears.

The trouble with Dyspepsia is that they are continually dieting, starving themselves, or going to opposite extreme, or else deluging the already overburdened stomach with "bitters," "after-dinner pills," etc., which invariably increase the difficulty even if in some cases they do give a slight temporary relief. Such treatment of the stomach simply makes matters worse. What the stomach wants is a rest. Now, how can the stomach become rested, recuperated and at the same time the body nourished and sustained. This is a great secret and this is also the secret of the uniform success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. This is a comparatively new remedy, but its success and popularity leave no doubt as to its merit.

The Tablets will digest the food anyway, regardless of condition of stomach. The sufferer from Dyspepsia, according to directions, is to eat an abundance of good, wholesome food and use the tablets before and after each meal, and the result will be that the food will be digested no matter how bad your Dyspepsia may be, because, as before stated, the tablets will digest the food even if the stomach is wholly inactive. To illustrate our meaning plainly, if you take 1800 grains of meat, eggs or ordinary food and place it in a temperature of 98 degrees and put with it one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets it will digest the meat or eggs almost as perfectly as if the meat was enclosed within the stomach.

The stomach may be ever so weak, yet these tablets will perform the work of digestion and the body and brain will be properly nourished, and at the same time a radical, lasting cure of Dyspepsia will be made, because the much-abused stomach will be given, to some extent, a much needed rest. Your druggist will tell you that of all the many remedies advertised to cure Dyspepsia none of them have given so complete and general satisfaction as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and not least in importance, in these hard times, is the fact that they are also the cheapest and give the most good for the least money.

TEST YOUR KIDNEYS

NAN PATTERSON FACES JURY ON MURDER CHARGE

acquire this quick, lowered tone, and Nan Patterson has it. "My lawyers have filled me with confidence, and I feel sure that when my story is told they will believe me," she continued. "I can only tell just what happened on that dreadful morning and then trust the jury to believe me." Something of the attraction this girl held for Cesar Young, man of the world, gambler with all of the gambler's lack of emotion, sincere in her love as she is, it was not a theatrical effort. It was from the heart, and back of the spoken word was a sincere, intense yearning and longing to be free.

And when you are free?" asked the reporter. "Ah!" said the young woman, and her face lighted up, her eyes glowed and she seemed about to give up voice to all her hopes, her fears and her longing. But it was just then that Mr. Levy, her lawyer, refused to allow the young woman to go on. "Well, I guess I will go home with my father," she concluded.

And that is, Nan Patterson, exploited from one end of the country to the other as a dancing and beautiful actress about to be deserted by the man who had poured wealth into her lap and who, when her pleading failed to avail, had shot down the man as he rode beside her with his arm about her waist trying to soften the blow about to fall. Instead, she is a sad-faced, plaintive little frightened girl, pleading to be allowed to go home.

She Will Tell "the Simple Truth."
Nan Patterson will testify how she met him and got into the cab with him to drive to the steamer; how he pleaded with her to follow him to Europe in a few weeks and join him on the other side, and how, on her refusal, he, shaken with overmuch drinking and loss of sleep, suddenly drew a revolver; of the report that followed; of his heart falling in her lap; of her consequent fainting and recovering possession of her senses some time later, when she was in the hospital and surrounded by detectives.

That is what Nan Patterson would have the jury believe. "That is the simple truth," she says, and she accompanies the statement with a sweet smile that carries with it a heap of conviction.

In the meantime J. Morgan Smith, the girl's brother-in-law, who with which Young was killed, has disappeared and will not testify at the trial. They say Mr. Levy knows where he is and could produce him if he wanted to. Mr. Levy says nothing about this side of the case.

Two witnesses have recently come forward to testify that they saw Young shoot himself as they stood on the sidewalk. The defense expects these stories to sustain Nan Patterson's statement in detail.

BEATEN, ROBBED ON EADS BRIDGE

Victim Fought Valiantly, but Was Knocked Unconscious and Kicked by Assaultants.

A desperate fight on Eads bridge shortly after 12 o'clock Wednesday morning, between Tony Garich of 123 Chestnut street and two men, did not save him from being robbed of $41. Garich is at the City Hospital, suffering from a scalp wound, a contused eye and other injuries received in the fight.

PRAISES NATIONAL CASH REGISTER CO.

Foreign World's Fair Commissioners Indorse President Patterson's Welfare Work and Unique Methods.

DAYTON, O., Nov. 16.—A special Pullman train consisting of five sleepers and dining car brought to Dayton today representatives to the World's Fair from 25 nations on a visit to the plant of the National Cash Register Co. Most of the European countries, Africa and Australasia, all of the South American and Central American nations and Mexico are represented by their commissioners at the National Cash Register Co. There are nearly one hundred in the party, about half of whom are ladies.

Upon arrival of the special here, the officers of the National Cash Register Co. took charge of the party and, after breakfast at the Algonquin Hotel, took them for a carriage drive about the city, and thence to the famous factory of the National Cash Register Co.

Accompanied by special guides, the party was shown through the great plant and the unique methods were thoroughly explained to the visitors. They were especially interested in the various features which have given this factory international fame and made its president, John H. Patterson, one of the best-known men in the entire world.

Mr. Patterson has provided his employees with the finest workshops in the world. The large windows let in plenty of sunlight and fresh air. Everywhere the eye can travel is seen green trees now brown under the November frosts, flowers, shrubs and plants that make the institution look more like a great seminary rather than a factory.

For both the men and women workers, there is a rest room, a trained nurse in attendance for the women employees and a doctor for the men. Good wholesome meals are furnished at cost to the officers, men and women. Noted lecturers are brought from all over the world to give lectures to the workers, while the girls are taught cooking, sewing, millinery and various household accomplishments.

The company and the various commissioners. The latter were especially interested in the great model factory and of the methods of its noted president.

A lunch was served at the Officers' Club for the distinguished guests after which they were taken to Fair Hills, the country home of the president, which has been used all summer as an outing place for the employees. A magnificent banquet was held at the hotel, and the evening was spent in the most enjoyable manner.

They all joined in a telegram to Mr. Patterson, who is now abroad, congratulating him upon the great work in which he is engaged, and hoping that his life may be spared many years, so that he may have the pleasure of seeing the army of employees and that his work might be consoled by other great manufacturing institutions throughout the world.

KILLED HIMSELF IN POLICE COURT

Saloonkeeper Charged With a Family Disturbance, Shoots at Wife and Child and Ends His Life.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—While being arraigned in court to-day, Charles Shyock, a saloonkeeper, fired a revolver several times at his wife and child and then committed suicide.

The child was wounded, but not seriously. During the shooting Mrs. Shyock fell to the floor and was thought to have been killed. She, however, had only fainted.

When the woman revived, her husband lay dead and the courtroom was in wild confusion. The charges on which Shyock was being tried related to a family disturbance.

Admiral Schley Cannot Come.
Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, whose arrival in St. Louis has been expected for two days, will not be able to come, according to a telegram to his sister, Mrs. Mary Parks Fisher, hostess of the Maryland building, received Tuesday night. The admiral was detained in Washington on business. He was to have been the guest of honor at the hostesses' banquet to be given in the Missouri building Friday night.

PRESIDENT REMOVES MARSHAL AND JUDGES

Nome District Officers Lose Positions in Consequence of Assistant Attorney-General Day's Report.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—President Roosevelt has removed from office Frank H. Richards, United States marshal for the Nome district in Alaska, and has requested the resignation of Judges Alfred S. Moore of the Nome district and Melville C. Brown of the Juneau district. This action is the result of the investigation of the Alaska judiciary made recently by Assistant Attorney-General Day.

Gov. Thompson Is Dying.
NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Former Gov. Hugh Smith Thompson of South Carolina, who has been critically ill at his home in this city, was still alive today, but his physicians said he could survive only a few hours. Mr. Thompson is suffering from asthma growing out of an attack of grip last March.

FINED $10 FOR EARLY SONG

Burst Forth in Melody at 2 a. m., and There Was No Sleep for Wife and Children.

James Culliton of 2144 Sheridan avenue was fined $10 in the Dorton Street Police Court Wednesday because of his habit of pitching his voice in song at 2 o'clock in the morning and keeping his wife and seven children awake.

Mrs. Culliton made the complaint, testifying that her husband not only habitually disturbed her peace, but robbed his children of their needed rest.

Besides this, Mrs. Culliton alleged that her husband was usually drunk when he broke into his morning song, and that he failed to support his family.

PAT CROWE GOT "STAKE" HERE AND VANISHED

Noted Kidnaped Said He Was "Broke," Reformed, and on His Way to Visit His Brother Who Has a Hotel in Chicago.

CALLED ON OLD FRIEND
IN NORTH ST. LOUIS

Interrupted an Evening Party to Get a Loan, and Went His Way Before Detectives Knew He Was in the City.

J. J. Brennan, a brother of Charles Brennan, of 1817 North Twenty-third street, confirmed Wednesday the report that Pat Crowe, who kidnaped a little son of Millionaire Cudahy in Omaha two years ago, and has been a fugitive since, called at the home of Charles Brennan last week and asked for money with which to go to Chicago.

J. J. Brennan and several visitors were at the house, when there was a ring at the doorbell at about 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

The ring was answered by Charles. He was gone some time, and when he returned to the room he did not tell who the caller had been, but the next day he said it was Pat Crowe, that he was in hard luck, and that counting on old acquaintance, he had called to ask a loan.

Crowe told Brennan he was going to Chicago to see his brother, Steve Crowe, who conducts a hotel on Madison street there. He expressed confidence that he would be able to "square" the charges against him in Omaha, and said he was going to reform.

Many years ago the Crowe and Brennan families lived as neighbors in Scott County, Kan., and the Brennan boys went to school with Crowe.

Because of old associations Charles Brennan had no inclination to turn Crowe over to the authorities, and he went away with the loan he had asked.

So far as is known, Brennan is the only man in St. Louis knowing Crowe who saw and talked to him.

Charles Brennan was out of the city Wednesday.

Crowe's visit to St. Louis was begun and ended without policemen or detectives suspecting that he was in or near the city.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 16.—Chief of Police Donahue thoroughly believes the story from St. Louis that Pat Crowe, the famous kidnaper, was in that city several days ago, and that he is now in Chicago. Donahue says he has swung back and forth between those two cities and that every effort has been made to capture him.

"Crowe is badly wanted here by the state of Nebraska on a charge of robbery and securing $25,000 from Millionaire Cudahy of packing fame," says Chief Donahue. "He is not under an indictment for kidnaping, but a warrant was issued for him soon after the crime was committed and that warrant still stands. We have made every effort to capture him. There is no reward offered now, although at one time Cudahy offered a reward of $25,000 for Crowe whether guilty or not.

The reason Crowe has never been captured is that the police of the cities he doesn't know him when they see him. The police are looking for a desperado, when, in fact, Crowe looks like a successful business man and is undoubtedly passing for one everywhere he goes. I have known for many months that he was in Chicago and St. Louis, but could never actually locate him."

SAYS HIGHWAYMEN ROBBED HIM

Man at City Hospital Badly Bruised Reports That the Robbers Secured $1.

Tony Goric of 1635 Chestnut street is at the City Hospital with a contused scalp and severe bruises about the head which he says were inflicted by two highwaymen who robbed him of $41 and beat him, near the East St. Louis stockyards, at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

Goric reached the City Dispensary at 1 o'clock Wednesday morning. He was bleeding and was in some pain. He says his assailants were white men.

OLD CABMAN DROPS DEAD

Familiar Character in Belleville Dies While Being Assisted to an Ambulance.

Henry Rose, familiarly known as Roach-on, who has been a cab driver and baggage wagon driver in Belleville for more than fifteen years, died suddenly Wednesday morning at the Belleville police station.

Rose applied at the station at 2 o'clock for shelter. He was placed in the homeless cell. At 6 o'clock he complained of being sick, and at his request a doctor and his sister, Mrs. Charles Schneider, were sent for.

The doctor directed that he be taken to the county hospital, and when the county ambulance arrived and while a policeman was assisting Rose to walk from the cell, he dropped dead. An inquest will be held.

Rose met most of the trains at the different depots and was well known to the traveling public as well as to everybody in Belleville. He had a very strong voice, which was always heard proclaiming the merits of the hotel he represented.

RUSSIA GROWS RESENTFUL

Objects to British Jingoism Continually Flamming the Red Rag of War in Her Face.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 16.—The resentment produced by the speeches of the British ministers on the North Sea incident, especially the assumption that Russia has agreed to punish the officers of the Russian squadron in advance of any findings of the commission has been further inflamed by the speech of Lord Selborne, first lord of the admiralty, Monday at Bristol on the danger of a Russian invasion of India.

The Novoye Vremya, while philosophically disposed to hold the British jingoism responsible for this constant provocative attitude, calling attention particularly to Viceroy Curzon's and Lord Kitchener's denials of any desire of Russia to engage in light, says that nevertheless Russia always has a chance of evening up British superiority at sea by a move in the direction of India and, therefore, naturally it is a great comfort to Russia that she has direct rail communication with Tashkend.

The Novoye, on the contrary, makes light of the ghost of a Russian invasion to the Indian which British statesmen are constantly trotting out for the benefit of the British public and suggests that it would be better for Great Britain to make sincere overtures to Russia regarding the Indian border instead of taking refuge behind Afghanistan.

AFGHANS EXPLODE
RUSSIAN MAGAZINE.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—A dispatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Moscow says a telegram received there from Baku announces that trouble has occurred between Russians and Afghans at Kushk. The Afghans, it is added, exploded a Russian magazine and many soldiers were killed.

As Kushk is situated a dozen miles inside the Afghanistan frontier, it is hardly conceivable that there could be a Russian magazine there.

EMERSON M'MILLIN, JR., DEAD.

Son of Laclede Gas Company's President Dies Suddenly.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Emerson M'Millin, Jr., son of the well-known banker and steam railroad owner, is dead at his home here from an attack of gastric hemorrhage. He was 21 years old and entered the banking business with his father in St. Louis, coming later to Wall street. Mr. M'Millin, Sr., is president of the Laclede Gas Co. of St. Louis and the family made their home in that city several years.

CATARRH FROM BABYHOOD

A Beautiful Little Girl Saved From a Life of Suffering by Pe-ru-na.

Doctored With Best Physicians for Three Years Without Benefit.

Pe-ru-na Cures a Case of Catarrh of Long Standing.

MRS. GEORGE VAN DUSEN AND DAUGHTER.

NEGLECTED COLDS LEAD TO CATARRH. NEGLECTED CATARRH BECOMES CHRONIC.

Mrs. George Van Dusen, Mohawk, Herkimer County, New York, writes: "Having derived so much benefit from your grand medicine, I felt as if I must write to you and tell you what a great help it has been to us. My little daughter when but two months old took a severe cold and it settled in her head and continued to get worse, and in a few months terminated in the worst case of catarrh that has ever been known in this part of the state. After doctoring with the best doctors for three years and receiving no benefit, we were persuaded to try a widely advertised catarrh cure, and at first we thought it was helping her, but after using 20 or more bottles she was as bad as ever. As a last resort we began with Peruna, and she is now 9 years old, and for the past year has been the healthiest child you ever saw. The catarrh has entirely disappeared. No discharge nor odor at all, but we keep the precious bottle in the house, and at the first appearance of cold with any of us we immediately take Peruna. We know there is nothing like it. In our estimation it is priceless."—Mrs. George Van Dusen.

ONE of the greatest foes with which every family has to contend is our changeable climate. To protect the family from colds and coughs is always a serious problem, and often impossible. Sooner or later it is the inevitable fate of everyone to catch cold. Care in avoiding exposure and the use of proper clothing will protect one from the frequency and severity of colds, but with the great amount of precautions they will come. This is a settled fact of human experience. One is liable to catch cold in any season. Everybody must expect to be caught somewhere or somehow. Perhaps it will be wet feet, or a draft, or damp clothes, or it may be one of a thousand other little mishaps, but no one is shrewd enough to always avoid the inevitable catching cold. Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics. One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotics of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect. It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates the catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh. There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for 20 years. Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any drugs of a narcotic nature. Address Dr. S. B. Hartman, president of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O. COLORADO'S BUSINESS MEN DEMAND PEACE

Gov. Peabody Threatens to Hold the Gubernatorial Chair on Pretext of Fraud in the Interest of Policy He Advocated.

GUGGENHEIM BACKS HIS PROPOSED PLAN

Democrats Claim That the Peabody Forces Committed the Frauds, but Fear His Canvassing Board and His Judges.

DENVER, Nov. 15.—The business men of Denver and Colorado want peace. They have passed through two years of turmoil and have borne serious financial losses, and they are not in a humor to patiently witness the state plunged into a sea of fresh troubles. Gov. Peabody's pronouncement of Sunday morning, in which he intimates that he will not accept the people's verdict, but will attempt to retain his office, has proven the last straw, and the Denver business men will tell his excellency in unmistakable terms that, in their opinion, when a man is soundly trounced it is time for him to quit. A movement is on foot to have the chamber of commerce and the real estate exchange take the initiative.

It has been suggested that a committee of prominent business men might be designated by those organizations to wait upon his excellency and suggest that he become reconciled to the situation, return to his counting room in Canon City and permit the state to journey along the peace and prosperity road.

Many of the men who are taking the lead in this movement were among the governor's most constant supporters, but they realize that their side lost the contest and to their minds that should be an end of it.

The business men will have the support of the more conservative members of the Republican organization and probably a majority of the state canvassing board. On the face of the returns Alva Adams has a majority of 500 outside of Denver and about 500 in this city. The Democrats have a majority of the senate outside this county and the Republicans probably control the house. In order to carry out the Peabody program the state canvassing board would have to throw out all the Democratic senators and representatives from this county and at least two Democratic senators who are elected outside. This would give the Peabody men control of both branches of the legislature, which canvasses the vote for governor. A legislative majority secured in this way would be expected to throw out all the Denver wards carried by the Peabody men, and the result would be a majority for the present governor. The result of this action might bring a majority for the present governor. The result of this action might bring a majority for the present governor. The result of this action might bring a majority for the present governor.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND DON'T KNOW IT

To Prove What Swamp-Root, the Great Kidney Remedy, will do for YOU, Every Reader of the "Post-Dispatch" May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Free by Mail.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease; therefore, when through neglect or other causes, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and need attention first.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root the great kidney and bladder remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root will set your whole system right, and the best proof of this is a trial.

55 COTTAGE ST., MELROSE, MASS.

DEAR SIR: JAN 11th, 1904.

"Ever since I was in the Army, I had more or less kidney trouble, and within the past year it became so severe and complicated that I suffered everything and was much alarmed by strength and power was fast leaving me. I saw an advertisement of Swamp-Root and wrote asking for advice. I began the use of the medicine and noted a decided improvement after taking Swamp-Root only a short time. I continued its use and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured and strong. In order to be very sure about this I had a doctor examine some of my water today and he pronounced it all right and in splendid condition. I know that your Swamp-Root is surely vegetable and does not contain any harmful drugs. Thanking you for my complete recovery and recommending Swamp-Root to all sufferers I am, Very truly yours, I. C. RICHARDSON.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but it promptly cures kidney,

SPECIAL NOTE—In order to prove the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. The value and success of Swamp-Root are so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. In this generous offer in St. Louis Daily Post-Dispatch. The genuineness of this offer is guaranteed.

Lost Power Restored

To Men of All Ages If Decline Is from Unnatural Cause.

Dr. Meyer's Staff of Physicians.

There is not a man in existence who is suffering from impotency that we cannot rebuild and strengthen so as to accomplish the greatest desire and experience the keenest satisfaction; and after we have cured a case of this kind there will never again be a sign of weakness, except brought on by imprudence.

OUR BEST GUARANTEE IS NOT A DOLLAR NEED BE PAID UNTIL CURED.

$12.50

In view of there being so many afflicted with private and chronic diseases who are treating with quack specialists and inexperienced physicians without receiving any benefit, we have decided to make a special offer to change only one-half of our regular fee for curing them who are now despondent and discouraged, and are disappointed, provided they come to us before Dec. 1, 1904. For instance, if you are afflicted with either Piles, Hemorrhoids, Varicocele, Neuritis, Stricture or Nervous Decline, our charge for curing either of which, without any complication, is $12.50, we will cure you for $12.50, and accept the money in any way you wish to pay. We will also cure Contagious Blood Poison for $12.50, which is just half our regular fee. This amount offer is made to enable those to be cured who have spent heavy money in desponding without relief and to show the many who have doubted our claims of curing without cost, that we have the only method that produces a lifelong cure.

CONSULTATION FREE AND INVITED.—Full information and treatment will be given by mail in case you cannot visit our office. Every man can take our treatment, because our charges are moderate, and never more than anyone can conveniently pay. Do not treat elsewhere until you have investigated our methods and terms. Hospital Physicians Here and in Other Cities Will Aid New York Commission.

EXTENSIVE WORK PLANNED.

Cultures Prepared Will Be Forwarded to Central Laboratory for Expert Attention.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Thirty hospitals in various large cities in every section of the country, including the City Hospital in St. Louis and at least one private hospital in that city, have promised active co-operation in the pneumonia investigation recently begun by a special commission of eminent specialists by direction of the department of health of this city. The laboratory investigation will be carried on in Boston, Philadelphia, Saratoga Lake and at three laboratories in this city. Twenty thousand cases will be studied in a period of six months, which began Nov. 1.

The "clearing house" or central laboratory of the investigation will be at the headquarters of the department of health here.

All cultures isolated by the physicians working under the commission will be sent to this laboratory, where they will be investigated or compared for identification or further classification. The value of the data presented to the commission will by this means be greatly increased, as the same methods and standards will be applied to the study of all cultures, and errors arising from other studies by workers in the field and without the same facilities will be corrected. Hundreds of white mice and young rabbits will be required in the course of the investigations of the commission. They will be inoculated subcutaneously with saliva and emulsions of patients. In this way the cultures will be isolated.

There are just an even dozen pertinent questions which the committee will endeavor to answer for the benefit of the medical profession. Half of these have been referred to the bacteriological committee and half to the clinical. They cover the entire range of the disease as well as studies of the air and dust conditions in public and private places. Hospitals in Baltimore, Washington, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, San Francisco, Buffalo, Helena, Minneapolis, Denver and 20 other cities equally scattered, are in Montreal, Canada, will carry on the field work. They will report on specially prepared blank which contain 100 questions. The commission will hold its third meeting in this city early next month, and the report on its work is expected to be ready in May, 1905.

LADY MANAGERS SEEING FAIR

Quit Luncheons and Other Social Things to Study the Exhibits and See What Is There.

The Board of Lady Managers is going to see the Fair!

For that purpose the ladies adjourned their meeting Tuesday evening, and Wednesday they are enjoying the delights of the Exposition. Thursday they will continue the program, and Friday when they convene again they will compare notes as to what they have seen. Many of the ladies have been at the Fair for nearly the entire seven months; others have been there half the time. But all have been so occupied with social engagements and business that the beauties of the magic city have gone neglected by them. "Of course we've seen the Cascades and the Igorrotes," said one member, "but we have really been too busy to spend any time in the exhibit palaces or to give any of them more than cursory attention. We have held sessions in the morning and sessions in the afternoon, and we have given luncheons and we have attended luncheons; and our time has been taken up entirely with social affairs and business."

FOREMAN HELD RESPONSIBLE.

Must Pay Fine for Employing Boy Under 14 in Factory.

L. F. Deck, foreman of a box factory, must pay a fine of $25 for employing a 13-year-old youth in the factory in violation of the labor law prohibiting the employment of children in factories under 14 years. The Court of Criminal Correction yesterday imposed the fine of Deck, and he appealed. Deck contended that the boy, Herman Weis, had said he was 14, and that, besides, the factory officials and not himself should be prosecuted.

The Court of Appeals sustained the lower court in its opinion handed down Tuesday.

Pardonable Pride Because of Uncle Sam's Endorsement.

Mr. L. D. Vogel of the Charter Oak Stove and Range Co. of Waukegan, Ill., yesterday when placing that company's announcement which appears on page 8 today. He says: "You can stand squarely on both feet, look a customer straight in the eye and talk about the merits of the Charter Oak Range without having to back up or go around with confidence that you can deliver the goods and with your heart in the deal. The merits of the Charter Oak are now so well known that the purchaser's desire to buy is as great as the dealer's desire to sell."

"The Charter Oak has been awarded many medals at fairs during the fifty-four years it has been before the public, and we are used to that sort of thing, but we are particularly proud that the United States government officials selected the Charter Oak Range with which to make its meat tests by cooking demonstrations at the World's Fair. And we are gratified that all those engaged in making the cooking experiments and meat tests were so thoroughly satisfied with the manner in which the Charter Oak Range did its work."

PAROLED YOUTH REARRESTED.

Proprietor of Meat Market Checks Robbery of Cash Drawer.

An attempt to rob the Manhattan Market, 74 North Vandewater avenue, early Wednesday morning, was foiled by the proprietor, C. H. Granly, who caught the would-be robber just as he broke the lock to the drawer which contains the cash. He was arrested and taken to the Dayton street police station, where he gave his name as Adams, and said he was 19 years old and out of the Reform School on parole. Another boy was seen running through the alley, and the police think he was a companion of Adams. The youth got into the store by cutting a screen which covered an open window.

Two State Buildings Sold.

The California and West Virginia state buildings at the World's Fair have been sold to the Southern Illinois Wrecking Co. of East St. Louis. The sale price was made public. The California building was erected at a cost of $150,000 and the West Virginia building at a cost of $25,000.

CHINESE WILL BE SENT HOME.

Performers at World's Fair Will Leave St. Louis This Week. Performers in the Chinese Village at the World's Fair will start on the return trip to China this week. Arrangements for the trip are not yet complete, however, and the immigration department has not definitely set the day for the departure. There are 23 Chinese, for each of whom the owners of the Chinese Village concession have given a $500 bond to return to China. The party will be accompanied to San Francisco by immigration inspectors and will be seen safely on board ship to prevent the escape of any of the Chinese.

A Man Who Knows The Food Value of Soda Crackers

An Automobillist left Los Angeles for Seattle, a journey of over two thousand miles. For provision against emergency he carried in his car only a package of soda crackers and tin of sardines.

It happened that he did not have occasion to resort to his emergency rations, but the dependence he placed upon that package of soda crackers showed that there is one man at least who appreciates the high value of the soda cracker as a food.

Uneeda Biscuit, the perfected soda cracker, has been aptly termed The Staff of Modern Life. While bread which has the usage of ages to entrench its position, may never be entirely supplanted by the soda cracker, yet certain it is that as people are learning the real value of Uneeda Biscuit, they are coming to be more and more used in hundreds of thousands of American homes. Uneeda Biscuit are sold in air tight packages everywhere—5¢.

OUTLAWS STEAL RANCHMEN'S ARMS

Two Score "Nervy" Men of Fiction Cowed by Two Masked Bandits.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 14.—Big Horn County in and about Thermopolis is excited as never before over the second and exceptionally daring robbery by the Hole-in-the-Wall bandits—the same men, it is alleged, who robbed the First National Bank at Cody two weeks ago and killed Cashier Middaugh. This robbery took place in Edwards' saloon and gambling room in Thermopolis and the fact that two score booted and spurred ranchmen and gamblers—men known the world over for their nerve—the very men who started to hunt the outlaws to death two weeks ago—were cowed by two men and relieved of their money and a choice collection of knives and revolvers, has only increased their anger. This same twosome of booted and spurred men are now riding their horses nearly to death to lynch the outlaws after they are caught. It was just before noon when two men wearing masks and armed with two revolvers walked into the big saloon and ordered "hands up."

To the amazement of every other man in the house they all stood up and not a shot was fired. At the next command those to be robbed all stood in a row. One of the robbers cowed the customers while the other went through their pockets. A large sum of money was secured, but the exact sum is not known. The men backed out of the place and made their escape on fast horses. The outlaws were recognized as George Merritt and his partner, who killed Middaugh. Posses were quickly organized and started in pursuit, but the robbers reached the mountains ahead of them. These desperadoes doubled on their trail from the Hole-in-the-Wall country, after the Cody robbery, and took refuge in the Owl mountains, south of Thermopolis, where the officers had prepared to capture them. Feeling runs high in Big Horn County, and the rewards have been increased.

HELPLESS MAN IS BURNED TO DEATH

Bed-Ridden Paralytic in Alton Calls for Help as Flames Envelop Him, but None Comes.

Held down by paralysis and unable to move, Wade Scott, a negro invalid of 70 years, lay in his bed at Upper Alton this morning and saw flames slowly creep up to him and envelop him in a frightful death. Scott's screams for help were not heard in time to save him, owing to the remoteness of his home, and when neighbors discovered the fire and ran to the house the flames were so hot that no one could go in and bring him out. The old man lived on Main street with his wife, Mrs. Scott, whose earnings supported herself and husband, left home early in the morning, and left her husband alone. The origin of the fire is not explained. When the alarm was given shortly before 8 o'clock the house was almost completely enveloped by flames.

WYNNE FOR THE LONDON CONSULSHIP

Evans Will Be Given Cabinet Position, According to Report—Cortelyou for Treasury.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—An apparently well authenticated report is circulated that immediately after his inauguration next March, President Roosevelt will send to the Senate the appointment of Robert J. Wynne, now postmaster-general, to be consul-general at London. This office is now held by Henry Clay Evans of Tennessee, who, it is said, is to be returned to Washington and given the cabinet post made vacant by Mr. Wynne's transfer. It is said that Mr. Evans' family, consisting of his wife and two daughters, are anxious to return and participate in the social doings of Washington. The post of consul-general at London pays in salary and fees about $25,000 a year. It is said that the President is desirous of making George B. Cortelyou secretary of the treasury. It is practically certain that Mr. Shaw will retire to the practice of law in Iowa next spring. Mr. Cortelyou's appointment to the treasury portfolio, it is stated, would be satisfactory to the financial interests of the country.

Kidneys Affected,

But Five Bottles Completely Cured

PEPSIN SYRUP COMPANY,
Monticello, Ill.

Gentlemen:

A few months ago I had frequent dull aches in my back, my muscles felt sore, I had frequent headache, and my appetite was varying. At times I did not care for food a whole day. The doctor claimed that my liver was inactive, and that this affected my kidneys somewhat. He prescribed for me and I took his medicine for over two months. Finding that this brought no relief, and that I was getting worse, a Lodge friend advised me to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I used three bottles and felt greatly relieved, and after having taken five bottles in all, I was completely cured. I am very grateful for my continued health, and feel it is a daily blessing which I appreciate as never before.

FIREMEN FORM HUMAN BRIDGE TO SAVE GIRLS

Three Hundred Employees Were Trapped in Building When Fierce Flames Cut Off Escape by Fire Escapes and Stairways.

MANY WERE BEYOND REACH OF THE LADDERS

Area Between Buildings Was Spanned by Rescuers and All Escaped Through Windows Before Floors Collapsed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Three hundred men and girls employed in several manufacturing concerns in a five-story building on the Bowery were thrown into a panic by fire today, but by prompt work on the part of the firemen and the volunteer rescuers all were taken out in safety.

The fire started in the Central Knitting Mill on the second floor, probably from defective insulation of electrical wires, and in a few minutes the flames were sweeping up through the halls to the floors above. Nearly all the persons in the building were employed in a coat factory on the top floor, and a moment after the smoke and flames poured up the halls the fire escapes on the Bowery side of the building were choked by crowds of frenzied men and women. Stairways were impassable and the small fire escapes were taxed far beyond their capacity.

Before the firemen arrived the flames were shooting out of the front windows and making a blazing wall to cut off those above the second floor.

The position of the men and women on the fire escapes was becoming more and more desperate every moment when long ladders which cleared the wall of flame below were set to the upper windows. Then, under the direction of firemen and volunteers, the frightened ones were brought safely to the ground.

Many women on the third floor who were out of reach of the ladders were taken across a narrow alleyway to an adjoining building on a living chain formed by firemen. A few minutes later the upper part of the building was a sea of fire and the floors soon collapsed.

PRINCE TO SEE WORLD'S FAIR

Special Representative of Mikado Will Arrive Here Monday and Remain Four Days.

Prince Sadanaru Fushimi, special representative of the emperor of Japan to the United States, will arrive in St. Louis Monday for a four-day stay and visit at the World's Fair.

A number of entertainments have been planned in the prince's honor, among these is a reception and dinner at the Japanese pavilion, a dinner at the St. Louis club and other functions at the fair.

The prince delivered a message from the emperor to President Roosevelt, expressing his majesty's great friendliness for America.

After visiting the fair the prince will tour the east and will sail from San Francisco for Japan Dec. 8.

OLD SOLDIER FOUND IN RIVER.

Relatives Believe Civil War Veteran Committed Suicide.

The body found in the Mississippi at the foot of Levee street Monday night was identified as that of a Civil War veteran, as that of Beahm Burt, 70 years old, a Civil War veteran.

Burt left a widow and eight boys, and a family cannot account for his death. He left his home, 218 Levee street, Monday night, after supper, and at 10 o'clock that night his body was found in three feet of water near the river bank by William Shaw, levee watchman. It is supposed he committed suicide.

This Cut Shows Mrs. Mary Langdon Instructing Little Cham Ya Young in A B C's in City Jail

YOUTH WHO SHOT MAN NOT ARRESTED

Family of Dr. Willett Do Not Blame Young Watchman for His Death.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. WEBB CITY, Mo., Nov. 16.—Claude Price, the 16-year-old boy who shot and killed Dr. J. P. Willett, who had hired him as a watchman, has not been arrested and Dr. Willett's family shows no disposition to prosecute him.

Dr. Willett had received a warning that he was to be robbed and became very much alarmed. He employed young Price as a watchman and gave him strict instructions to shoot to kill in event he saw anybody in or near the house.

It is supposed that Dr. Willett wished to see if Price was conducting a careful guard, as he was at a window several rooms from his bedroom when he was shot.

Just what Dr. Willett was doing at the window is a mystery, but the noise he made attracted the young watchman's attention, and, after a warning, he shot his employer down in the dark.

Firemen Looking for Vandal.

Firemen in Edwardsville are on the watch for a destructive vandal who entered the city hall Monday night, after supper, and at 10 o'clock that night his body was found in three feet of water near the river bank by William Shaw, levee watchman. It is supposed he committed suicide.

CHINESE WOMAN PUPIL IN FOUR COURTS CELL

Mrs. Mary Langdon, Charged With Forgery, Finds New Friend in Jailmate and Acts as School Teacher for Little Oriental Woman Held by Immigration Laws.

A little Chinese woman from Hong Kong who cannot speak English is a lonely figure in a big city like the United States, where the "white devils" only stare and laugh at her and where there seems such small sympathy.

But when the little Chinese woman is taken from the small society of her kind by the big "white devils" in the blue clothes and shiny buttons, whom she cannot understand, and put in a small and narrow stone room with iron bars in front of it, down in the depths of a big, black stone building, one can well imagine her despair. She hardly comprehends what she has done. She cannot voice her fear. No one can understand her repugnance for the food of the "white devils," which she has never eaten.

What will become of her? Will she always live thus in the little stone room? Or will the "white devils" slay her for a sacrifice as do the Mongol priests? This is not fancy. It was the plight in which Little Cham Ya Young found herself when she was arrested for violating the Chinese exclusion laws and locked in a cell in the Four Courts.

"Misses Langdon, me say A B C," says Cham Ya Young each morning, and this is the signal for the lesson to begin. Cham Ya Young's first lesson is pronunciation.

"Say A B C," begins Mrs. Langdon. Now D, E, F. And so on, three letters at a time, until the end of the alphabet is reached. Cham Ya Young repeats the letters slowly, but with perfect articulation.

Six times they go over the alphabet in this manner and then Mrs. Langdon writes the alphabet in both small and capital letters. Cham Ya Young copies them off, pronouncing each as she writes.

Counting the figures from 1 to 10 "examples" are finished. Cham Ya Young repeats the pronunciation of names. "Misses Dawson" she knows is the name of the jailer's wife, and "Misses Cady" is the way she plainly pronounces the name of the matron.

Being able to count 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, the pupil can say "I have 2, 3 and 4 are 6." This progress is gratifying to Mrs. Langdon, who believes she can teach the little Chinese woman several things before "school" ends.

When Cham Ya Young was taken to jail two weeks ago for violation of the immigration laws she could neither speak nor understand a word of English, much less write and do sums. Now she can do both, she writes her own name and that of her teacher.

Although Cham Ya Young does not expect to return to the United States after Uncle Sam's officers send her back to her home in Hongkong, she takes delight in her efforts to master the English language and looks with fond hope to the day when she can speak "good" English talk.

Cham Ya Young entered on the jail records as Don Ah Muey, but she explains, as Mrs. Langdon can understand, that this is her maiden name.

FAIRBANKS VIEWS PHILIPPINE SHOW

Vice-President-Elect Makes Final Hurried Survey of World's Fair Sights.

Vice-President-elect Charles W. Fairbanks was at the World's Fair at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning for his second day of sightseeing, determined that the three hours before his departure for Indianapolis should sum up the view of as many things as possible.

After visiting several of the exhibit palaces Mr. Fairbanks appeared at the Pennsylvania building, where the farewell exercises for Liberty Bell were being held.

He delivered a few words there and was then dashed away in a carriage with President Francis and "Uncle Joe" Cannon, speaker of the House of Representatives, to the Philippine reservation. The party witnessed a drill by the constabulary, and the vice-president expressed a desire to see the Igorotes.

This pleasure was not denied him, and the party spent some time in the village. Mr. Fairbanks was pleased. He wanted to see more, and so they went to the Moro, Negrito and other villages in the Philippine exhibit.

Senator Fairbanks, President Francis and Speaker Cannon spent a part of the evening in the Alps, making a tour of the "mountains." They arrived too late for the concert, but as they passed through the banquet hall and other feature places Senator Fairbanks was recognized and welcomed with calls for a speech. The calls remained unanswered, however, save for bows and smiles on the part of the visitor.

BOAT SPLIT, SAILOR ESCAPED

He Was Imprisoned in Cabin by Water's Rush and Given Up for Dead.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 16.—Foreman James Hancock of the drill boat Cyclone had a narrow escape from death when the vessel was swamped by a big wave and sunk at the line kln crossing at the mouth of the Detroit river.

The section of the in-rushing water imprisoned Hancock in the cabin as the boat went down. Fellow workmen who escaped to a tug had given him up for lost, when he was suddenly shot to the surface of the water.

Either the boat's boilers had shifted and split the cabin or else the cabin was split by air pressure, raising the imprisoned foreman who was battling for his life in the sunken vessel, and all but exhausted when the breaking of the cabin timbers released him.

Increase in City's Revenue.

An increase of $36,311.02 in municipal revenue for the first six months of the fiscal year of 1905 as compared with the first six months of the 1904 year is shown in the report of City Comptroller Player. A total increase of $173,238.76 for the same period of all funds controlled by the treasurer is shown. An increase of approximately $68,000 in the municipal appropriations shown. The comptroller suggests that $27,000 be transferred from the municipal revenue fund to provide for the redemption of bonds maturing April 1, 1905.

No Change in Passenger Rates.

The St. Louis Terminal Lines, at a meeting held Tuesday, decided that there should be no reduction in excursion rates to St. Louis and no change in present arrangements during the remainder of the Exposition period.

DRANK COAL OIL BECAUSE AN ORPHAN

Young Man Says Loss of Mother Caused Him to Try to End His Life.

Because his mother died when he was 4 years old, Alphonse Bozarth, 18 years old, is at the City Hospital recovering from the effects of three ounces of coal oil, taken with intent to end his life.

Bozarth swallowed the coal oil Tuesday night at the home of his sister, 214 North Eighteenth street.

To improve the taste of the coal oil he sweetened it with sugar.

Before swallowing the coal oil he wrote a note to his sister, in which he stated that he did not care to live longer and be a burden to her. "I have no money to buy other poison," he wrote, "and so I am using the coal oil."

He will recover.

Thousands of women of every age and condition break down and are brought to the very verge of utter collapse because they have kidney trouble and do not know it. It saps vitality—shatters nerves—makes work or rest or sleep impossible. Many a sufferer takes medicine for imaginary "female complaints" until she is utterly discouraged and much worse. And yet it is so easy to tell when the kidneys are sick, and so easy to cure them with the right sort of treatment. Prolonged neglect means diabetes or Bright's Disease.

How many apparently healthy women there are who begin to find household work a burden; who are constantly "all-tired-out," irritable and depressed, and who suffer often from sick, dizzy headaches, pain in the back and sides, rheumatism and irregular flow of the urine. They are always ailing, but not sick enough to go to bed, and they wait for the spells to pass away.

But the cause is still there. The kidneys are sick, and work only aggravates the trouble. The kidneys have in some way become congested, irritated, or inflamed, and are failing to remove the uric acid and other poisons from the blood. These poisons are attacking the nerves, muscles, and vital organs.

If you wish to try Doan's Kidney Pills free of expense, write to Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., for a trial box.

SORES AND ULCERS

Six years ago I became afflicted with a severe sore leg which continued to grow worse, gradually, until the entire leg from the knee to the foot was one solid sore, which was very offensive. I spent over $1,000.00 on two trips to Hot Springs, and various local physicians treated me to no purpose. I had about come to the conclusion to have my leg amputated when a friend induced me to try S. S. S., saying if I would take it constantly for a year and it did not benefit me he would pay for the medicine. I began to take my medicine, and in the short space of seven months it completely and thoroughly cured me. I consider S. S. S. the greatest medicine the world has ever known. My leg is a witness today as to what S. S. S. will do when taken regularly.

A great running sore, or deep offensive ulcer may develop from a slight scratch, bruise or pimple—a harmless looking little boil or slightly swollen gland may soon be an ulcerating mass that will develop into a cancerous ulcer, dangerous and destructive. Middle-aged and old people are the most frequent sufferers from old sores and chronic ulcers, but the young, even children, who have inherited weak constitutions or had them contaminated and tainted by Malaria, or other sickness, are afflicted in the same way. These chronic sores and ulcers are a constant drain on the system, sapping the vitality and strength. They depress the energy with their foul pollution, and are sure signs that the blood is charged with poisonous matters which in its weak, sluggish condition it is unable to throw off. Salves, washes, powders, etc., can never be of any permanent service in the treatment of sores and ulcers, because the trouble is not on the outside, but in the blood, and as long as it circulates through the body in its impoverished and poisoned condition the trouble will grow worse. The need is a remedy that will cleanse the blood of all poisons and impurities, build it up from its weakened state, increase its vigor and strengthen the whole system. S. S. S. does this, and is the only blood purifier that does. Rich blood is carried to the diseased parts, which forms new tissues and allows the sore or ulcer to heal. It works with nature because of its vegetable properties, and tones up every organ while effecting the cure. It brings a safe as well as a permanent cure, and is guaranteed entirely vegetable. Send for our special book on Sores and Ulcers, and write for any advice you wish. We make no charge for this.

BIGGEST WEST OF THE MISSISSIPPI

The Japanese have captured another key to Port Arthur.
How many keys are there?

Arkansas is still Democratic, but the returns show that there are several still Democrats in the state.

Every cent of the government loan to the Exposition has been paid back and the croakers are again greatly disappointed.

The war in the east seems to have reached the stage analogous to that which the philosophers contemplate when an irresistible force meets an immovable body.

Cupid never stops for politics. In the midst of the election excitement Miss Kalosina Raczkozmewnor of Kansas City, Kan., became Mrs. Charles Wellop.

Admiral Melville of Philadelphia has never voted. Voters, however, are never missed in the cradle of liberty. The ballot boxes are stuffed for whatever majority is required.

After the demonstration on election day, it was quite unnecessary for Mr. Fairbanks to sprint through the exhibit buildings at the World's Fair to prove that he can run well.

The Buenos Ayres retail clerks who are striking for "two hours for lunch" would never do in the strenuous life, where ten minutes for refreshments are considered enough for any reasonable money chaser.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S OPPORTUNITY.

It is gratifying to know that President Roosevelt's great victory has impressed upon his mind the fact that he is earnestly desirous of learning the needs of the people and of endeavoring to meet them—to accomplish something noteworthy for their benefit. President Roosevelt can do this, but in considering how to do it he should bear in mind that the true greatness and glory of a people do not consist in either the possession or use of brute force, or in the pomp and splendor of conquest, but in the progress of their moral ideas and the betterment of their daily conditions. The value of a man's work is not measured by spectacular achievements, but by his practical contributions to the sum of human happiness. The soundness of industrial and commercial conditions are not determined by the great wealth of a few, but by the equitable distribution of wealth among the masses. Mr. Roosevelt has opportunity:

To assure a revision of the tariff in the interest of all the people, to the end that the people may be relieved of heavy burdens.

To strike an effective blow at monopoly and thus equalize the distribution of wealth.

To use his great power to put a stop to the control of the government by favored combinations of capital and thus perpetuate the government of, for and by the people.

To hasten the independence of the Philippines and thus, while giving liberty to a weak alien people, assume the preservation of the principles of free government by consent of the governed in the United States. By this act Roosevelt can win for himself a place in history with Lincoln as a great liberator.

The fact that these things were urged by his opponents in the recent campaign would not detract from but would add to the credit of doing them. Their accomplishment would do more to gain for the President a noble immortality than the greatest achievements of an army or navy, and would bring about another era of political good feeling.

State Senator Frank H. Farris says he wants to reduce the governor's patronage. There may be something in this idea, but not so much as there is in Governor-elect Folk's original idea of reducing boodling, which hit Senator Farris rather hard.

A MODEL PLAYGROUND IN THE PARK.

The proposal to retain the model playground at Forest Park is acceptable, if consistently worked out from the park standpoint.

Such a playground should be a valuable addition to the features of the park. It is specially designed to instruct mothers and nurses, as well as to delight the little ones.

The grounds at the Exposition are equipped with swings, trapezes, horizontal bars and gymnastic apparatus, a pavilion for kindergarten work, hammocks and sand boxes. It is said to be one of the best-equipped playgrounds in the country.

The proposal is tempting. The cost of maintenance, said to be about $300 a month, is pledged by members of St. Louis clubs.
If the Board of Public Improvements finds nothing detrimental to the park latent in the suggestion it ought to be accepted.

The Kaiser has several big sticks, but he will no doubt be highly pleased with the souvenir cane to be presented him by the St. Louis Furniture Board of Trade.

WAGNER SIMPLICITY.

Rev. Charles Wagner, whose book entitled "The Simple Life" has attracted so much attention, addressed an American audience in New York the other night, telling in quaint, homely phrase just what he means by the simple life.

He was asked how a people living among skyscrapers could be simple. "Simplicity," he replied, "is not a matter of floor, but of heart. You can have it on the first or the fortieth floor."

This is the whole thought in a sentence. And it is a happy correction of the artificial, manufactured or boughten simplicity which has got vogue among chatterers.

When people turn away from the surface, where things abound and look within their own hearts for the springs of thought and action, then they become simple and really strong. All the distractions of noisy fame and luxury, all the comforts of mere utility are powerless to generate confidence and peace.
For these we must look elsewhere, as Mr. Wagner teaches.

A GOLDEN GIFT IS SILENCE

By Nicola Greeley-Smith Granddaughter of Horace Greeley.

Written for the Post-Dispatch.

Nicola Greeley-Smith.

Of all the gifts which the parsimonious deities presiding at human births confer sparingly upon mankind, that of silence is surely most to be desired. The power of reticence is the greatest in the world, and to him or her who possesses it all things are possible. Empires have tottered, thrones have crumbled because of a careless word. But few indeed are the catastrophes which may be attributed to things left unsaid. One of the great compensations of dullness is that it tends to silence. Stiltedness, glibness and bluntness, but a trifling old stupidity remains and remains still. People often wonder why men marry women who in society appear dull and commonplace, and marvel that the brilliant and vivacious Miss So-and-So, who dazzles every one by the aptness of her replies, remains unwed. Yet if any of these people happened at any time to be ill or tired or very much depressed and chanced to encounter the brilliant conversationalist and the dull, silent matron, they would realize at once the mad-making impossibility of living with the one and the entire restfulness of the other. Silence is indeed easier to live with than beauty or brains or charms, and quite the rarest woman in the world is she who does not talk too much. Of course, there are as many kind of silences as there are styles of conversation. All excessive talking is bad, but there are degrees even in this. No matter how well he talks, the person who talks too much is an unmitigated bore. But the effect he produces on other people is of altogether minor importance compared with the result of his proximity to himself. He who gurgles continually like a tilted bottle of his affairs and his neighbors' affairs is bound some day to get into serious trouble and to suffer a grievous though deserved penalty for his garrulity. Some excessive talkers have the faculty of selecting interesting subjects of conversation, and their error is merely one of quantity. But the great majority become lost in a chaos of platitudinous detail that dazes and overwhelms the unfortunate listener. There is a similar difference among those gifted with silence. We have all felt it when we have not analyzed the distinction between the silence which is truly uncompetitive and that which is merely uncompetitive. But any old kind wears better than the most brilliant conversation, and the girl who indulges in vain replying because she never has anything to say and is not talkative and scintillating like Miss Jones or Miss Brown is wasting her time and had better devote her precious gift of silence and envy no one.

JOHN CHINAMAN AT HIS EASE.
Celestial Dignified When He Casts Off the Cares of the World.

From the Shanghai Times.

With the summer weather the Chinaman comes before us prominent in his artistic silks and in his native nakedness. His feature to the observant foreigner and the manner in which he takes his pleasure contrasts marvelously with that of the energetic occidental human being.

In the early hours of the morning, when the rays of old Sol are tempered with the dissipating dew of night, the wealthy native, as well as the worker of low degree, may be seen carrying the cage containing his favorite singing bird to the native gardens or other tree-embowered spot and listening in contemplative ecstasy to the joyous greeting which his caged friend pours forth to the coming glory of the day.

As soon as the golden beams become oppressive he retires to his domicile, whether to labor or sleep 'tis hard to tell. In any case, he is wise, for he has not caught the beauty of the grandest part of a summer's day, the majesty of dawn! Again, when sunset's glow has fallen deep in the West, the Chinaman pours forth to his dis-version. To stand for hours with waving fan on the curb of our city's thoroughfares watching the procession of vehicular and pedestrian traffic brings him apparently the delight which a Londoner can obtain from a lord mayor's show, but with a calm, calculating philosophy, which constitutes one of his greatest variations from the habit of mind of the vivacious European.

by a royal pageant. Thus, in dignified, contemplative manner, does the Chinaman display his idiosyncrasy of pleasure-seeking. Again, the native of younger blood, imbued with a tinge of foreign taste, rushes madly through the streets on the whirling wheel or drives luxuriously reclining in his smartly appointed carriage, behind the fastest trotting pony, steered by a reckless Jehu, which his means are able to procure. The visitors to the various public resorts of the Chinese in the settlements will invariably gain an interesting insight into the Chinaman and his pleasure-taking, and one striking feature cannot pass unnoticed. Whether coolie, merchant, office boy or mandarin, in public the Chinaman at play is invariably respectable. One hears much of the native immorality, but decorum when in the public eye, and absolutely moral behavior characterizes even the biggest rake among the Chinamen of our settlements. Drunkenness is a vice which is usually kept within doors, as are all other reprehensible practices. Quarreling is almost an unknown thing in public resorts. Never does one witness anything approaching the college student of Europe on the rampage, or 'Arry and 'Arrist on a bank holiday tear. The Chinaman takes his pleasure as he takes his business, with a calm, calculating philosophy, which constitutes one of his greatest variations from the habit of mind of the vivacious European.

ON THE SUBURBAN TRAIN

Written for the Post-Dispatch.

"SEE that Douglas the shoe man is mentioned for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1908," said the Insurance Man, who had been a commuter thirty years and who long ago learned how to read his paper when the dancing of the train gave the letters the appearance of being shot across the page with an air gun. "Douglas for President and $3.50 shoes for the issue ought to put the party on its feet," said the Druggist, taking his collar out of his pocket and buttoning it around his neck. The Druggist rolled down the aisle with the cigars. Everybody lit up and stuck their noses back in their papers. Two or three of them looked up as though they had a humorous comment to make, but they were unable to throw the idea into words until it was too late, and they, too, resumed reading. After a while the train got tired of running, and stopped. The Railroad Man thrust his head out of a window, and looked ahead. "Well!" said the commuters in the smoker. "Trump ahead!" announced the Railroad Man, withdrawing his head and tucking and tucking the column again, to see if he couldn't bore down into its lenden depths. The train stood still a few minutes, and then went ahead at a snail's pace for a mile. "Trailing him," said the Insurance Man, who had just looked out. The train stopped again and then suddenly picked up and ran on like mad. "Made him get on and ride," said the Railroad Man, withdrawing his head from the window. Everybody dug his nose into his paper again and smoked up. "I see all the women in Wyoming voted for Roosevelt," said the Insurance Man, looking up from his paper. "Yes, he even carried the outskirts," said the Steamboat Man, sighing. The train suddenly stopped, and the Railroad Man thrust his head from the smoker window again. "Well!" exclaimed the commuters when he settled back into his seats. "Passenger coming across the field?" he said. The passenger finally clambered up and appeared in the smoker. He was a red-faced potato grower. "Darnit! I'll be glad when this here electric line gets built and we won't have to depend on these cursed suburban trains, which is alius late!" he exclaimed. "It wouldn't be so late if you knew when it was going to cross your farm the Railroad Man made bold to suggest. There was a titter, and the train ran on to the city. "St. Louis!" called the brakeman, blushing to say it at the time of day.

ABOUT MONKEYS.

An English writer contradicts the assertion that monkeys never bathe. "I have kept monkeys for 30 years," he says, "and have at the present time several monkeys who delight in bathing. At least two of them are expert swimmers and divers. A small male Mona monkey takes his morning 'tub' with the greatest zest and delights in rolling over and over under water. An Abyssinian monkey in my possession is a capital swimmer. I have also a male sooty monkey that both swims and dives. A female Calcutra monkey bathes and washes herself in the most human-like manner. I have, however, never seen her swim. From the unnatural way in which monkeys are generally kept in this country, it is not possible for an observer to form an accurate idea of the habits of the quadrumania. What human being shut up in the monkey house of a zoological garden, with its enervating atmospheres, there to linger and languish until he died, could be expected to exhibit his true character?"

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

TO THE EDITOR OF THE POST-DISPATCH.

You have published several complaints regarding the treatment by the Frisco Railway Co. of the adjoining suburbs of Lindenwood and Greenwood. The only street between the two which has been opened up is Fyler avenue. Recently, on account of action taken by the School Board, as I am informed, the street department built steps down the embankment at Fyler avenue and made a cinder path over from Greenwood, for the benefit of the school children who are obliged to cross the railway to get to the Longfellow School. But the railway company persists in blocking the street crossing with freight cars, which extend the way from beyond Gratiot to beyond Lindenwood stations. So the little children and adults, including ladies, are either compelled to creep under the cars or make a detour of a mile or more. They usually choose the dangerous course of getting under the cars. I am told the railway company excuses itself by saying that these are cars heading repairs, that this is the most convenient point to store them, and that the blockade will be temporary. But this morning the street was closed by a long line of loaded coal cars so that excuse is not valid. Why do the police permit a public street to be blocked in this way? Sooner or later some one will be killed by this neglect. LINDENWOOD.

NEW PARTY LINES.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch. Will you kindly allow me space to ask Thomas E. Watson how can you form another People's party? Bryan would us up in 1908. If the Republican leaders had known just what the people were going to do for Roosevelt there would have been no People's party ticket. Bryan made all real Populists Socialists everywhere, and they'll not come back. Must be some other new party, as we certainly have learned so from the men who put up the ticket and why. The business men stayed with Roosevelt and labor went to the Socialists. L. A. QUELLMAZ, Belleville, Ill.

THE INDEPENDENT VOTER.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch. Why so many lengthy explanations "How it happened" as to Folk when we have this formula: In consideration of $1000 cash in hand paid, the Republican city committee induced the convention to disregard the general demand of the Republican party that Folk be endorsed. Thereupon the state and the state convention by overwhelmingly endorsing Folk at the polls. The party spewed out the convention "Drugs," and then swallowed Folk to the hilt. G. W. B. ONE OF 'EM.

DEPARTMENT STORE EMPLOYEES AND THE WORLD'S FAIR.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch. In behalf of hundreds I appeal to you to assist us in getting a chance for just a glimpse or two of the great World's Fair without being deducted out of our salaries. During July and August we had, as is customary, Saturday half holidays, but could every girl and woman who man afford to have gone every Saturday? No. Sometimes we were too worn out to be able to go out there and walk and walk after a week's long business. What we wish you to do is this: Help us to get President's day; this is our last and only chance. I know Thanksgiving will be mentioned a substitute and repudiate both the city committee and the state convention by overwhelmingly endorsing Folk at the polls. The party spewed out the convention "Drugs," and then swallowed Folk to the hilt. G. W. B. ONE OF 'EM.

LAST DAYS OF THE FAIR.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch. In the name of those who work six days a week, in the name of those who have delayed, and in the name of all who want to give the World's Fair a grand send-off, I appeal to you to assist us in getting a chance for just a glimpse or two of the great World's Fair without being deducted out of our salaries. During July and August we had, as is customary, Saturday half holidays, but could every girl and woman who man afford to have gone every Saturday? No. Sometimes we were too worn out to be able to go out there and walk and walk after a week's long business. What we wish you to do is this: Help us to get President's day; this is our last and only chance. T. Z.—Winston Churchill, care of Macmillan & Co., publishers, New York. Latin "v" is pronounced about like "w."
A. AND B.—It is probable that half the people in Ireland speak English with an accent. We have no exact statistics.
J. H.—There is no Hungarian newspaper in St. Louis and Hungarians are not numerous here. We do not recall any thickly settled neighborhoods.
I. SHIMMEL.—Wherever there is registration the vote, whether he be a native or a naturalized foreigner cannot vote unless he has registered.
A. VOTING.—Drink nothing after 4 p. m. and have yourself awakened early in the morning about 6 o'clock until you shall have formed the habit of waking at that time.
BORTOLO.—Different countries have different postal laws. That is why a registered letter sent out of the United States requires more postage than one sent into them, if such is the case.
The magician who holds a woman in midair without visible support does it mechanically, through the floor, programmed as an illusion, and that is all it is. Ask in drug stores.
H. J. S.—Soldiers, sailors and marines cannot vote in Missouri, Arkansas, Indiana, Montana, Nebraska, New Jersey, New Mexico, Ohio, South Dakota, Texas or Virginia. The other states and territories have no such exclusion laws.
N. D. E.—The man who voted for the Roosevelt electors and Folk and scratched all other names on his ticket, voted illegally and is now in the penitentiary. At this writing the complete figures in regard to the amendments. They are evidently defeated.
G. S.—Instead of saying "It is a good thing to have always money," or "to always have money" or "always to have money," say "It is always good to have money." However, it is not always good to have money; for instance, when you meet a highwayman, or a borrower, or some one who offers a poor investment. G. E. W.—We have no "baker bread" recipe. For dill pickles, make a brine strong enough to burn up an egg, then add half as much water as you have brine. Soak the cucumbers for a day in very cold water, then put in clean glass jars and a layer of grape leaves, one of cucumbers, and then a layer of dill, using the leaves and stems. When the jar is full pour over all the brine. Cover the jar with a cloth. Lay weighted plate on top of this. Remove the cloth and wash it once a week.
M. F.—Molasses candy: Boil together a cupful of molasses, one of brown sugar, a tablespoonful of butter and a pinch of ginger. When a little dropped in cold water becomes brittle take from the fire, beat in a scant teaspoonful of baking soda and turn into buttered pans. Fudge: Boil together a cupful of sugar, one of grated chocolate, a half cupful of milk and a quarter cupful of molasses. Stir often, and when a little hardens in cold water take from the fire, beat in a teaspoonful of vanilla and stir for several minutes, or until "candied," then turn into a buttered pan.
SENATOR COCKRELL WILL BE MISSED.
From the New York World. Missouri furnishes in the prospective retirement from the Senate of Mr. Cockrell a melancholy example of the incidental harm that "landslides" do. Four years ago Missouri went Democratic and the opportunity was missed to send "Gumshoe Bill" Stone to the Senate. This year the Republicans won, and Mr. Cockrell, a veteran senator and one of sterling worth and ability, will be left at home. President Roosevelt has more than once expressed his appreciation of Senator Cockrell. His Republican associates highly esteem him. Partisanship no more limits his public usefulness than it did that of George F. Hoar. He will be missed.
LINCOLN AND ROOSEVELT.
From the Washington Star. Theodore Roosevelt is as striking an expression of American opportunity and inspiration as was Abraham Lincoln. Lowly birth and extreme poverty were as ineffectual against the rise of the man who became president as were the same against the other. Character in its best estate told in both cases. The man who stands at the head of his station and the other the temptations of his. Hard work and lofty ideals explain the achievements of both.
FOLK MUST "STAND PAT."
From the Butcher and Packers' Gazette. In justice to the people who by their votes called him to the governor's chair, Mr. Joseph W. Folk must "stand pat" and not attempt to change his position.

SEEKING SLEEP HE FOUND DEATH

Chloral Prescribed for Use in Small Doses Was Swallowed at One Draught.

An overdose of chloral which he took to induce sleep after suffering from insomnia caused the death Wednesday morning of Paul Rickart, 42 years old, a bookkeeper, living at 440 North Market street.

At 10 o'clock Tuesday night Rickart, being unable to sleep, called in Dr. Dorsey of 1422 North Taylor avenue, who prescribed small doses of chloral. Rickart was found unconscious by his family at 2 o'clock. An entire bottle of chloral lay by his side. He had swallowed the entire ounce in one dose. An ambulance was summoned and he was taken to the City Hospital, but died without recovering consciousness.

To Succeed Inspector Dice.

Appointment as Inspector in charge of the St. Louis division to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Postoffice Inspector George A. Dice is said to have been tendered R. M. Fulton, in charge of the Cincinnati division. Official report of the appointment has not been made and in the event that Mr. Fulton prefers to remain in Cincinnati, probabilities are that W. T. Sullivan, acting inspector in charge at St. Louis, will be Mr. Dice's successor.

MISS CALDWELL'S FRIENDS SURPRISED

Churchmen Slow to Accept Report That Benefactress Has Renounced Catholic Faith.

STATUS OF FUND TODAY

Trustees Are in Washington and Are Seeking Confirmation of the Recent Report.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Coincidentally with the Marquise Des Montiers' repudiation of her former creed, comes the important gathering of the hierarchy of the Catholic church in America, as trustees of the Catholic University in Washington. The trustees are met at the university today. Two matters of imminent concern are, it is safely said, under consideration. One is the alleged renunciation of the church by its former benefactress; the other the bankruptcy of Thomas E. Waggaman, treasurer of the university and signer of a trust deed representing $300,000 or more of the funds of this Catholic institution.

As to any connection between the Waggaman failure and the repudiation of her church by the American marquise, the church dignitaries are loath to speak.

It is about 23 years ago that Mary G. Caldwell, daughter of William F. Caldwell, who made a fortune in gas houses, announced her intention of founding the divinity college of the Catholic University. The man to whom she then outlined her intention, a solid citizen of Washington, today:

Wished to Provide Refuge for Pope.

"I regarded the then Miss Caldwell as an enthusiast. Her conversation impressed me as that of a woman carried away with high religious or denominational theories. Throughout she struck me as possessed of the desire to raise in the United States a sanctuary for the then beleaguered Pope, the head of the Holy Roman Catholic church.

"Much that she then said impressed me with the belief that Miss Caldwell felt assured that very soon the temporal ruler of the church would be driven from the Vatican and that she hoped to be able, by her endowment, to start a movement toward a home for the papacy in America.

The Waggaman family, of which one is the now bankrupt treasurer of the Catholic university, through the admitted influence of Bishop Spalding of Peoria, gave of her wealth $300,000 to the establishment of the University of the Church.

In no uncertain tones it is whispered in Washington that the statement of the former daughter of the church is inspired by one who seeks to control the remainder of her vast fortune.

It is said here that the Mary Caldwell of 1881, said one who knew her well in those early days, Cardinal Gibbons, Bishop Keane, Bishop Foley, Bishop Horstmann, the Rev. Dr. Stafford of St. Patrick's Church, Archbishop Williams of Boston and others high in the church were busy preparing a statement of the affairs of the university, to be made public today.

Miss Caldwell's Gift to Church.

It is estimated in church circles that about $70,000 of the gift of the marquise is embarrased by the Waggaman collapse. She gave outright $300,000 to found the hall of divinity (bearing her name), and also $50,000 to endow a chair of theology as a memorial to her parents, and $10,000 each for two scholarships.

It is said here that the university authorities are awkwardly placed by the action of the marquise. They can scarcely retain her name on the divinity hall, which is her gift, but if they retain the endowment, nearly $100,000, they cannot well remove her name.

The late Pope conferred on the marquise the order of the golden rose in acknowledgment of her services to the church.

Prominent members of the Catholic clergy in Washington express their surprise at the announcement from Rome of the action of the marquise. In fact, they were loath to believe she had formed such a determination. At the university itself, the statement would not be accepted as true, but in order to satisfy himself on the subject Rector O'Connell cabled Rome for information.

Bishop Spalding of Peoria is in the city to attend a meeting of the trustees of the university. When asked if he could assign any reason for the marquise's action he answered that he could not; that he knew her only as good Catholic, and until the announcement was made had given no thought otherwise.

"It is all a mystery to me," he said.

DRANK COAL OIL TO END LIFE.

Despondent Youth Said He Was Too Poor to Buy Poison.

Alfonso Bozarth, 19 years old, of 314 North Eighteenth street is expected to recover from his attempt to end his life by drinking three ounces of coal oil Tuesday night.

Bozarth taking the coal oil Bozarth wrote a note to his sister, who lives at the same address, telling her he was despondent because he had failed to procure employment and that he only reason he used coal oil in his attempt at self-destruction was that he had no money to buy other poison.

Bozarth was found unconscious by his sister shortly after he had taken the coal oil and was sent to the City Hospital.

GIVE UP LUXURY TO HELP THE POOR

Robert Hunter and Wife Leave Home of Millionaire to Live in Tenement.

SELECT A NEW DISTRICT.

Both Have Carefully Investigated Poorer Districts in Large Cities Before Taking Step.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—In pursuit of their desire to assist the poor and uplift the depressed, Robert Hunter and his wife, the daughter of the multi-millionaire, Anson Phelps Stokes, have forsaken their country residence in Noroton, Conn., and their mansion in Madison avenue for a small brick house in Grove street on the lower west side. Both have devoted several years to work in the slums and were married two years ago, while Mr. Hunter, formerly of Chicago was in charge of a university settlement.

The decision to settle in Grove street was made after long study of the conditions in the lower quarters of the city. Both Mr. Hunter and his wife have intimate knowledge of the East Side and for a long time they were inclined to make their home there. But their investigations led them west of Washington Square, and in and around Minetta lane they found the best demand for the work they had in mind.

For more than two generations this section has been looked upon as one of the blots on the city. The place never is without a patrolman, one being detailed especially for duty in the street, little more than 300 yards in length. Formerly the lane was the center of the "red-light district," but since the movement uptown the "red lights" have disappeared, and in their stead came poverty. In the last couple of years tenement houses of the accepted East Side model have begun to replace the old, old-fashioned brick structures, and this has made more pressing the demand for the judicious settlement work. The mission workers say the district is now more in need of attention from the charitable and the sympathetic rich than any other quarter in Manhattan.

Eupesia TABLETS

This offer is made for the purpose of introducing the most effective formula now in existence for the relief and permanent cure of Stomach Troubles and all related conditions of the digestive organs. There is no deception, trick or scheme about this proposition. Every promise will be fulfilled to the very letter. Eupesia Tablets have been found by all who have tried them to be a positive and thoroughly reliable cure. They put a speedy stop to all the suffering and misery usually endured by victims of indigestion or dyspepsia, remove the cause of the trouble and absolutely cure disease, no matter how long standing.

Eupesia Tablets give new life to the digestive organs, promote sound, refreshing sleep, cheerfulness and comfortable digestion. We guarantee a cure, and will refund your money if we fail. No other remedy on earth can or does do more, and no other medicine has been more freely and fully tested. Write for the following samples of hundreds of letters from persons who have been cured:

I am so thankful to you for the Tablets. I feel like a different man altogether. They have cured me of my trouble. 2014 Olive st., St. Louis, Mo.

For ten years I have had stomach trouble of the worst kind. I could not eat anything and lived mostly on butter-milk. My stomach would break and throw all the time, and what I suffered as I know you told me. I was so weak and weighed only 100 pounds, and I did weigh 150 pounds when I was last well. I can walk ten miles without any inconvenience. I am now in the best of health. I have saved thousands of dollars and all I had for nothing, and was cured with two boxes of Eupesia Tablets.

NOTE.—We forfeit $100 if we can not prove the genuineness of above statements.

Sold by all druggists or sent direct for $10. EUPESIA TABLETS, 2014 Olive st., St. Louis, Mo.

Your Nerves

Are the life, the vitality, the energy of your body.

It is the nerves that cause the heart to pulsate, the lungs to inhale the oxygen, the brain to direct the motion of every organ of the body, the stomach to digest food, the liver to secrete the bile, the kidneys to filter the blood, and the bowels to carry off the waste.

When the nerves of the stomach become weak, or exhausted, indigestion, constipation and inflammation result, because the stomach is inactive.

This is true of all the organs of the body, and proves that to cure disease you must strengthen the nerves.

Dr. Miles' Nerveine

Is the great specific for the nerves, and in bringing them back to health, never fails to cure all cases of Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Neuralgia, Headache, Spasms, Backache, Menstrual Troubles, St. Vitus Dance, Hysteria, Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles.

For 25 years physicians and health resorts failed to relieve a case of complication of stomach, liver, kidney and heart affections, six bottles of Dr. Miles' Nerveine cured me.—G. W. ARCHER, 2014 Olive st., St. Louis, Mo.

If you would be healthy, strong and happy, take Dr. Miles' Nerveine.
